GREAT FRENCH TENOR TO GIVE CONCERT HERE

PAUL DUFAULT WILL SING ON APRIL 28

Noted Artist Has Made Long Tours.—
Receives Only Highest Praise.—
Violinist and Pianist Accompany Singer.

Mr. Paul Dufault, the great French tenor, has been engaged to sing in Hawley Armory, Saturday evening, April 28, at eight o'clock, by the social committee. Mr. Dufault brings with him two able assistants, Roland Poisson, violinist, and Alfred Carrier, pianist. The college has been extremely fortunate in securing an artist of Mr. Dufault's ability to come here. It is expected that his concert will transcend anything ever before heard on the campus. The social committee and the Brush and Scroll are working hard to arrange the concert and get the student body to come out. The regular Saturday night dancing will follow and the admission charge will be fifty cents.

Plans Long Tour

Twenty-five years of touring the world on the concert stage is the record of Mr. Dufault. He has recently returned from a transcontinental tour of Canada, where he gave ninety concerts, and where the press united in giving him the highest praise. He is a personal friend of John McCormack, both having toured Australia at the same time. Up to the present time, he has made a great many phonograph records for various companies. He will leave this fall for a two-year tour which will take him through the English Colonies, South Africa, India, Australia, New Zealand; also China, Japan, and back through the United States. He selects these countries in order to open up new fields to the concert stage. He is now on a tour of the New England States.

Has Received Much Praise

Mr. Dufault is a man of intense and pleasing personality; he has a rich, colorful voice; and he is a true artist. He puts a great deal of interpretation into his roles as he sings them.

COLLEGE PROPERTY IS STATE GAME PRESERVE

Offer of Board of Trustees Accepted by State Board of Fisheries and Game.—Possibility of a Trout Rearing Station Placed Here.

Acceptance of the offer of the Connecticut Agricultural College Board of Trustees to make college property a state game preserve has been made by the State Board of Fisheries and Game.

A patrolman will be appointed by the State Board to protect the area from vermin and illegal hunting. During the trapping season it is planned to systematically trap off the fur-bearing vermin. According to present plans two or three students will be appointed to do this work. There is a possibility that the State Board may place a rearing station for fingerling trout here on the College grounds.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO BE GIVEN AT C. A. C.

HOME ECONOMICS AND
POULTRY ARE OFFERED

July 5 to August 10 are Dates of Summer Session.—College Credit to Those Enrolled at Connecticut in Home Economics Courses.—Regular Staff Members to be on Hand to Conduct Courses.

In answer to the needs of two groups of teachers in the state a summer school in Home Economics will be held at C. A. C. beginning July 5 and ending August 10. Teachers now in the field wish to take advantage of such a course to keep up to date in their knowledge of Home Economics. Teachers now in training desire a course in summer for intensive training to shorten the time of their training.

The courses to be given in summer are to be a duplicate of the regular college courses and credit as such will be given to those regularly enrolled in the college. Those outside the College, not working for a degree, but having had the requisite work will be admitted to the several courses.

The schedule of courses this year will include Advanced Clothing, Advanced Cooking, Nutrition and the teaching of Home Economics. Only two of these courses may be scheduled.

Lawson, '24, was chosen manager of the 1923-24 basketball team. Those nominated to be assistant managers of basketball were John W. Goodrich, '25, Russel S. White, '25, and Robert A. MacDonald, '25. White was elected on the second ballot. Elizabeth B. Hamilton, '24, was elected manager of the 1923-24 "Co-ed" basketball team. Laura Kittner, '25, and Catherine Manchester, '25, were nominated as assistant managers. Catherine Manchester was elected.

An amendment, providing that all names of candidates for assistant managership of athletic teams shall be posted on the Bulletin Board one week previous to their election was added to the A. A. Constitution.

BURGESS PRESIDENT OF THE AG CLUB

OFFICERS ELECTED AND PLANS MADE FOR YEAR

Underclassmen and Faculty Now Working Hard.—Varied and Interesting Program for Coming Year Formulated.—Chalker Chairman of Fair Committee.

For the coming year the following officers were elected at the Ag Club meeting last Thursday night: President, Wilfred de Lisle Burgess; Vice-President, Raymond Keeler; Secretary, W. Kilwasser; Treasurer, Raymond J. Wing; Chairman of the Fair Committee, M. B. Chalker.

Plans for next year include a regular annual fair to be held 'bigger and better' than ever before. The activities of the Club will be opened next fall by a talk from President Beach to the Club. Meetings are to be held every second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The program for the year is to include many outside speakers prominent in Agriculture throughout this and other states. Movies of varied agricultural interests will be used from time to time. One feature of the program will be meetings given over to a particular department, which will have charge of that meeting to put across some phase of work or some idea of general interest. This feature especially should give play to much originality and interesting work on the part of the members.

Several of the faculty members will speak on subjects pertaining to their interests.

A revival of interest is being shown in the Ag Club by the underclasses of the College. This fact, coupled with the fact that the faculty are now strongly and surely backing the Club as a necessary asset to the State Agricultural College, points to a strong organization next year.

There is some talk of having the High School Judging teams here in April instead of in December, so that they may do their judging out-of-doors, and get a better idea of the College.

The Ag Club Judging contests have been standardized for the next year. High School teams are to consist of seven men from each school, a different man of the team judging in each of the following contests: Animal Husbandry, Agronomy, Dairying, Fruit, Vegetables, Poultry and Farm Management.

In addition to the Woodford Farm Cup there are to be trophies (probably banners) to be awarded to high man

CLARK BOWS TO NUTMEGGERS IN FIRST HOME GAME OF 1923 BASEBALL SEASON

WHITE PITCHES WELL AND AGGIES TRIUMPH OVER BAYSTATE NINE ON LONG END OF 5 TO 4 SCORE

Crowds Witness Opening Game Despite Cold.—Many Errors on Both Sides.—Ganem, O'Brien, Metelli and Makofski Play well.—Many Clean Hits Feature Game.

Connecticut won its first home game of the 1923 baseball season on Saturday afternoon when Coach Crim's team sent the Clark University nine back to Worcester with a 5 to 4 defeat hanging over them. White, pitching his first game for the Aggies, pitched almost shutout ball, but errors on the part of the Aggie infield gave Clark their chances to score. White held the Worcester boys to eight scattered hits and did not give a single free ticket to the initial sack. Six of the Clark batters went out on strikes.

Connecticut Takes Lead

The visitors started off strong in the first frame, making two runs by taking advantage of errors on the part of the Connecticut infield. Ganem, the lead-off man for Connecticut, singled sharply into left field on the first ball pitched. O'Brien was safe when Fall dropped his fly to left field. Brundage singled, and Makofski drove in two runs when he clouted a double to center field. White hit a ball too hard for Fowler to handle and it bounded to right field, scoring the third and fourth runs.

Clark Gets Another

Neither team was able to score again until the fifth inning, when Pucillo doubled driving across a Clark unner who was reposing on the second sack. The Aggies had chances to score in every inning, but inability to produce hits with men on bases cost them many chances to tally.

Aggies Increase Lead

The Aggies' last run came in their half of the eighth frame when with the bases loaded, Anderson weakened and walked O'Brien, forcing White across the plate. The lanky Clark twirler also failed to get the first three across to Metelli, and after a hurried conference Pucillo came into the box and Anderson took center field. Pucillo showed his ability to locate the plate and Socco lifted a high fly to center field for the final out of the inning.

Louie Ganem put up a great game both in the field and at bat, getting a single and a double in five times at bat. O'Brien got two safe hits in four times at bat, while "Socco" Metelli had two hits in three times at bat. Makofski was cheated out of at least a triple when Puncillo made a one-handed leaping catch of his drive to right center. "Mac" also got a double in the first inning that drove across two runs.

AGGIES SMOOTHERED UNDER HEAVY HITTING OF BOSTON UNIVERSITY

LOCALS SECURE BUT THREE SINGLES WHILE VISITORS POLE OUT THIRTEEN LONG DRIVES

Lord Starts Game.—Three Pitchers Used.—Visitors Hit Two Homers in One Inning.—O'Brien Plays Well for Connecticut.

The Connecticut team struck a snag in its second home game of the season when on Wednesday afternoon the locals were snowed under by Boston University to the tune of 11 to 1. The Aggies failed to hit consistently; only three singles were garnered off the two opposing twirlers. According to comparative scores, which count for little in baseball, the game should have been close, but the Beantown players had their batting clothes on and smote the ball with a vengeance, collecting thirteen hits, including five doubles and two homers.

Coach Crim surprised the Aggie rooters by sending Lord to the mound. "Phil" breezed along in good style for the first five innings, allowing only five hits and two runs. The first tally came in the second on Higgonbotham's double, Latour's sacrifice, and Crossen's out. Connecticut tied the count in the fourth when Brundage walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on Fitzgerald's single over first.

B. U. went into the lead by chalking up another score in the fifth, and in the sixth inning put the game on ice. Four hits, including two doubles and two homers, drove four runs across the plate and caused Lord's retirement in favor of White. In the seventh the visitors nicked "Gramp's" delivery for three hits and Wells finished the game which had to be called at the end of the seventh to allow the Boston collegians to catch a train.

The features of the game were home runs by Latour and Tyler, while for Connecticut O'Brien showed up well both at bat and in the field, his catch of Tyler's low liner in the seventh helping to check the batting rally of the visitors.

FELDMAN WINS OVER BAMFORD IN POOL

Final Score Close.—Bamford Makes High Run of Game

In the most exciting and interesting game of the interfraternity pool tournament yet played, A. A. Feldman, shooting for Phi Epsilon Pi, defeated Ronald Bamford of Phi Mu Delta by a score of 100 to 97.

Both contestants played a very safe game from start to finish, with Bamford leading by 18 balls at the end of the first block. The second half was almost a repetition of the first. Bamford soon hit his stride and led Feldman by 27 balls. He retained this lead for only a short time as he

PHI EPSILON PI IS VICTORIOUS AT POOL

Displaying rare form, Feldman, shooting for the Phi Epsilon Pi, defeated Ganem, shooting for Eta Lambda Sigma, in the best game thus far of the tournament. Ganem was in the lead during the first half until the last two racks, and from then on Feldman kept the lead until the end. The first block ended with Feldman leading with six balls. Score 50—44. The second block was much slower than the first. There were no very high runs, Ganem leading with two runs of seven. Although Ganem made some shots that drew much applause from the spectators, he could not overcome the lead that Feldman established and Feldman ran out, leading by thirteen balls. The final score was Feldman 100; Ganem 87.

"BROWN BEAR" HANDS AGGIE BALL TOSSERS SECOND SET-BACK OF SEASON

HITS BUNCHED TOGETHER CINCH CONTEST FOR
PROVIDENCE COLLEGIANS WHO WIN 7 TO 1

Connecticut Scores in Opening Frame.—Brown Ties and Then Holds Lead
Throughout Game.—Laubscher Pitches Well.

Connecticut was defeated by Brown by a score of 7 to 1 on Thursday last, in a game that for the first six innings was a hard fought pitchers' battle. Laubscher, on the mound for the Aggies, allowed but five scattered hits for three runs in the first six innings. In the seventh the Bears got four hits in a row which netted them four runs. Up to this inning the score stood 3 to 1 in favor of Brown.

Connecticut Scores in First

Connecticut scored in the first inning, when with two out, Metelli, who singled over third and then made second on a wild throw, was sent in by Laubscher, who hit one of Cornell's offerings for three bases. Makofski hit a grounder to the second baseman and was thrown out, ending the Aggies scoring for the rest of the game. Brown also got a run in the first frame when Hoffman, the Brown first baseman, singled and sent one across.

Brown Takes Lead

Brown scored again in the third. Troumbower singled and was advanced on Cutler's sacrifice. Kneeland, the next man up drove one over third for two bases, sending Troumbower home.

Aggies Held

In the first of the fifth the Aggies had two men left on bases. Ganem grounded out to first, O'Brien singled and stole second on the next ball. Metelli flied out to the first baseman. Laubscher singled, advancing O'Brien to third, and stole second on the next ball. Makofski's slow grounder was gathered in by the Bruin second baseman, and he was thrown out at first.

Brown Adds to Score

Brown's third tally came in the last of the sixth. Kneeland struck out. Hoffman made first on an error. Mitchell struck out. Dugan hit for two bases, scoring Hoffman, and Murphy flied out to O'Brien, closing the inning. Brown's "lucky seventh" opened with Provost lacing out a two bagger. Cornell got on next and Troumbower singled, filling the bases. Laubscher tightened and struck out Cutler, and Kneeland was thrown out at first on a slow grounder. Hoffman hit for two bases, cleaning the bags, and was sent home a minute later by Mitchell's single scoring the seventh run for Brown.

In the last of the eighth Laubscher struck out Murphy; walked Provost, and struck out Cornell. Provost tried to steal second but was put out by Fitzgerald on Metelli's throw.

In the ninth, the Aggies' last chance Ganem, O'Brien and Metelli were all thrown out at first.

UPPER WALLS OF POOL COMPLETELY TILED

During the past two weeks the upper walls of the swimming pool have been tiled and work will be commenced on the lower portions immediately. The parts which have been completed are along the walk which surrounds the pool itself and the outer section of the gallery for spectators.

It is expected that the work of tiling will take fully four weeks longer so that if nothing happens to prevent the Aggie mermen should be able to take their first plunge somewhere in the vicinity of Junior Week.

HELP!

With the end of the college year fast approaching and the members of the 1923 Nutmeg doing their utmost to get the yearbook out for Junior Week, is it more than fair that the student body, the individuals and the group organizations that owe money to the 1922 Nutmeg be asked to pay at once? If the debt of last year's publication is not settled in the near future there will be no 1923 Nutmeg, according to the statement of the members of the board.

The 1922 Nutmeg Board is doing its best to get the debt cleared up so as to prevent a delay of the present yearbook. Advertisers are being solicited for payments now long over-due, individuals are being interviewed, and plans are being formulated to stage an entertainment to defray the balance of the debt. Hearty co-operation from all of the student body is solicited by both the 1922 and the 1923 Nutmeg Boards.

A SOPHOMORE CLUB

At the present time there are movements on foot to bring about the establishing of a set of athletic etiquette rules for Connecticut which will deal with the care of visiting teams while in college, whether or not the victor of our many athletic contests shall be given privileges of celebrating on Gardner Dow Field, and other such matters as effect our athletic morals. Now comes the question: Who is to carry out this good work? At other colleges there are sophomore societies that are composed of from ten to twenty of the leading men of that class whose duty it is to carry out all athletic relations and to enforce freshman regulations.

At the University of Vermont, a society composed of sophomores, called the "Gold Key," cares for visiting athletic teams, enforces freshmen regulations, and aids the other honorary fraternities in carrying out their work as concerns the student body. At Dartmouth the "Green Key" is the sophomore society and has similar functions to the one at Vermont. The "Red Key" of Cornell is a similar society. According to a recent issue of the "Vermont Cynic" there are plans among these three societies to establish a national honorary sophomore society.

It would be well if the committees now investigating the matter of a code of athletic rules would go a step further and organize a club or society whose duty it is to see to it that these rules are carried out and to enforce the freshman regulations as laid down by the student body and the sophomore class. This organization would also concern itself with the carrying out and the preservation, and the establishing of traditions at Connecticut. Possibly it would be well to have two juniors and one senior to act as general supervisors over the work of the underclassmen. Seven or eight men would be sufficient to carry on all necessary work at Connecticut. A list of ten nominees might be named or approved by the Senate and then the men elected by the class. From this body the two juniors would be elected or at least approved by the Student Senate, and the senior member, if there is to be one, could be elected by the Senate or from the student body at large.

Such a club or society could do much good at Connecticut and should be given serious consideration and definite action taken in the near future.

FINANCES

During the past two or three years we have witnessed the publication of an equal number of Nutmegs on the Hill. Almost invariably there has been a scarce, and sometimes matters have reached a troublesome state because of financial difficulties. When this state of affairs comes about the question "Who is to pay?", arises.

Perhaps the easiest way to settle this question is to be prepared to meet it by empowering the Nutmeg boards with full financial responsibilities. That is, if the Nutmeg Board makes money on the publication the members of the Board would be privileged to divide this up among its members; on the other hand if the Board lost money they would be held responsible for the debts they incurred. This would act as a double incentive for the Board to do good work, would prevent a needless expenditure of money, and would insure more co-operation among all of the members of the Board. In case of a loss there would be no wrangling as to who should be responsible, who should pay, nor would there be any unnecessary hold-ups on other books as there has been this year. Debts would be paid off much sooner than at present. There could be no "passing the buck" to class or student body as is now possible.

Some will argue that if the Board is given full financial powers the strife to make money will be so acute as to ruin the book. This is not so, for the precedent established by preceding books and the sentiment and criticism among the fellows will make it a necessity to publish a book of the same good quality as those which have gone before.

Perhaps it would be well for the Student Senate to adopt this system as a standard. Possibly, to a certain extent, a similar scheme would work well for the "Connecticut Campus." Certainly this would be a good incentive for the members of the "Nutmeg" and the "Campus" Boards to work to the best of their abilities both editorially and financially.

1923 DEBT TO BE PAID
IN NEAR FUTURE

Making a final drive, the Board of the 1922 Nutmeg and the class of 1923 are determined to clear up the outstanding debt incurred in publishing last year's Nutmeg. The sum of one hundred dollars was voted from the class treasury to go toward defraying the debt. Plans are now under way to put on a show which will probably be composed of the various branches of the talent of the college, including the Dramatic Club, the Blackguards, the Men's and Girls' Glee Clubs, with instrumental and vocal solos by members of the different theatrically inclined groups.

The outstanding advertisements are being collected as well as the bills owed to the book by many of the students on the campus, and it is expected to have the entire debt of about four hundred dollars cleared up before many weeks are passed.

JOHN A. LOMAX TELLS OF COWBOY SONGS

John A. Lomax, composer and collector of cowboy songs, was the speaker at Assembly this week. He gave a brief story of his life in the West and told of the cowboys and herds that passed his father's ranch during his boyhood.

Mr. Lomax is a graduate of Harvard and held a travelling fellowship from that institution for three years following his graduation. During this time, he roamed the ranch country and collected the cowboy songs, putting them into written form. Mr. Lomax recited a number of these songs and sang a few during the course of the lecture. The students entered willingly in the chorus of several of the number.

The "Three Mugs of Beer" will hold their first annual banquet on the night of the Junior Play, following the staging of the production.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

Some fail to make Gamma Chi because they're down in studies; others because they're down in activities; and still others because they're down in the pines.

Presenting the Co-ed Formal in its second annual attempt.

But then, did you ever know a boy who wouldn't go when it was free?

When Mr. Lomax spoke of the "dogies" we expected someone to crack wise and ask him if they later became "hot dogs."

By the way, Mr. Lomax had the stuff. The C. P. for one wants to congratulate the Assembly committee on the type of speakers we have heard this year.

We believe that men are born to sleep on Sunday morning, but since women will do as they please anyway, there is no use insisting on a Declaration of Rights for them.

It seems that Miss Benn's dancing class blossoms with the seasons.

Rumor has it that "Petey" Balock will stop frying hamburgs long enough to face the student body in the Freshman-Sophomore debate next month.

"Steve" Daly has been engaged as trainer. He has forbidden chewing gum, loud talking, rushing co-eds, or retiring after three a.m. "If the fools don't know enough to go to bed before that hour, they might as well stay up and argue," said Daley, as he busily rubbed liniment on Petey's tongue.

Betting on the big contest is fast and furious. "Soapy" has several hundred iron boys out, and expects to go to Florida this summer if the freshmen lose.

If they win, he'll go somewhere else.

The Sentence of the Week

"That is the noise of the spring—a vibrating boom which is neither bees, nor falling water, nor the wind in tree-tops, but the purring of the warm, happy world."

RONAN-FOUNTAIN ORCHESTRA
TO PLAY FOR PROM

The committee in charge of the Junior Prom has secured the Ronan-Fountain Orchestra of Middletown to play for the most important dance in the Connecticut social calendar, and if the team secured lives up to its past reputation, the music will be all that can be desired.

Those who attended the Prom of last year will remember the quality of the music at that event and the orchestra engaged for the affair of this year is composed of several of the same men.

"THE NUN'S PRIEST'S TALE"

(Thus named because it is so different from Chaucer.)

"What ho, my lads," as the skipper said to the crew that mutined, "a fair barque heaves amain."

Which is merely a dumb way of saying that once again the Co-ed Formal is near at hand.

This dance is dear to the heart of the male Agg-ee; for the cost is negligible; most exceedingly null.

The skill required is ability to heave a line and drag a co-ed. (Technical terms, meaning of which may be found in the August 1929 issue of the "Journal of Hereditary Science", in an article by Prof. I'm The Bunk of Bornhell University entitled, "The Scientific Ego of the Co-ed Pericarp," which, loosely translated, means, "Do Women 'Neck'?")

Yes, the hour is at hand.

Or rather, the hand points to the hour.

It is time to clean the grease-spots from last summer's white flannels, purchase the annual bottle of Bando-line, and set sail for the port of last resort.

Formally the co-eds are "there"; formerly they weren't. (Wise crack.)

White ducks not perishable; Max Press sold the other kind.

We understand that dancing will take place part of the evening.

The patrons and -esses are praying for rain, snow, cloudbursts, or any other dire calamity.

This business of holding a dance without dancing—is like going to the "Ravine" to play ping-pong.

The different chairmen will meet during the coming week to look over their respective projects and estimate on the number of men needed for each and exactly what work must be accomplished. The executive committee will then assign the proper number of men to each section and thus insure an equal distribution of labor.

The Faculty expect to turn out in full force this year as formerly and it is hoped by those in charge that the student body will show the same pep and spirit as in other years and help to make this the best Connecticut Day in the history of the college.

PHI MU DELTA ANNUAL DANCE

On Friday evening, April 13, the Phi Mu Delta fraternity held their annual dance in Hawley Armory. The Armory was decorated in a canopy of blue and white with side trimmings of orange and black, the fraternity colors.

The dance was featured by the date on which it was held, Friday, the 13th. There were thirteen dances on the program and the names of the pieces were all made to fit the occasion. There were about thirty couples at the dance, among whom were Captain C. R. Crim and Lieutenant Passmore as guests.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Sinnott, Professor and Mrs. I. G. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Moore. The dancing lasted from eight to twelve to music by "Chick Stanley's Syncopating Five."

SIX NAMES RECOMMENDED FOR NEW HEAD COACH

Six applicants for the position of head coach at Connecticut have been recommended by the Athletic Council and presented to the Board of Trustees for the election of one to the position.

The monthly trustee meeting was held in Hartford on Wednesday of this week. No action was taken by the Board of Trustees as they desired more information about each candidate. At the next meeting of the Trustees, to be held in May, a final vote will probably be taken and the new coach named.

uled by any one person, for each course is planned to occupy half of the student's time.

All work will be given in the laboratories in Holcomb Hall, the center of women's work on the Hill, and will be supervised by the regular staff.

Practical poultrymen will also be given an opportunity, similar to last year, to take intensive courses in Poultry for three weeks in July. The courses are to be open to anyone on the payment of a small fee. Instruction will be given by the staff of the Poultry Department, assisted by specialists and experienced practical poultrymen. The poultry courses will not count toward college credits.

The course in poultrying will be given in three divisions, any one of which may be taken separately. The first week will cover incubation, brooding and rearing; the second selection and culling; and the third feeding, housing, marketing and judging.

Last year's courses included students from four states, brought here by the reputation of the College poultry plant for its practical and experimental work.

Descriptive circulars of the summer courses will be sent promptly on request. Address: Director of Short Courses, Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, Conn.

You Men Who Study Dairying At College...

ARE fortunate in learning at first hand the real worth of feeds before having to spend money, and perhaps lose it, in experiment. Many self-educated farmers have lost time and money both in casting about for the best feeds.

At college you have learned the value of gluten feed as the protein basis for a concentrate ration. When you start dairying for yourself don't lose either money or time in looking for substitutes. Remember that Buffalo Corn Gluten Feed has served dairymen faithfully for a score of years. Make Buffalo the big ingredient of your concentrate mixture and your herd will yield the best possible milk flow right from the start.

JUNIORS WORKING ON CLASS PLAY

Cast of "Three Live Ghosts" Now Rehearsing

Work on the junior play is well under way and rehearsals are being held nearly every night in order that the cast may become so well drilled that there will be no hitch in the smoothness of the presentation.

The play is "The Three Live Ghosts" by Frederick S. Isham and Max Marcin, and is adapted from the book "The Daisy Pushers", which first appeared in 1918. It ran the entire season at Greenwich Village Theatre, New York City, in 1920-21, where it was played with the original cast from London and met with great success there.

The present line-up of the cast is as follows:

Mrs. Gubbins, known as "Old Sweetheart" Margaret Hall
Peggy Woofers Marion Eggleston
Bolton, of The Am. Det. Agency

Jimmy Gibbons Frederick Metzger
William Foster, alias "William Jones" Harold Baldwin

Spooey Thomas Donahue
Rose Gordon Hazel Palmer
Buggs, of Scotland Yard

McChesney Eddy
Benson Raymond Wing
Lady Leicester Hazel Pierpont
Manager—L. W. Kenneth
Coach—Michael J. Farrell

Mr. Farrell stated that the cast as it was at the present time was still open to revision but that on the whole it is shaping up admirably well, even better than he had expected and that by putting a little stress on a few places that he will be able to present a play that will be as good if not better than anything previous.

The leading lady is Miss Magraret Hall, who takes the part of the mother of one of the "Ghosts". They live in the poorer section of London and are therefore of questionable character and morals. The principal male parts, those of the "Three Live Ghosts," are played by "Freddie" Metzger, Harold Baldwin and "Tom" Donahue. Donahue takes the part of a shell shocked English soldier who cannot remember who he is nor anything about himself. He is seriously afflicted with the habit of appropriating property which is not his and furnishes the nucleus of mirth for the play.

ADMIRAL KNAPP DIES
SUDDENLY IN HARTFORD

Recent President's Hour Speaker.—Forty-two years of Excellent Service His Record.

Local interest is centered in the sudden death of Rear Admiral Harry Shepard Knapp, U. S. N., Retired, because of his recent appearance at Connecticut as a President's Hour speaker. His death in Hartford was caused by an acute attack of heart trouble. Rear Admiral Knapp had experienced forty-two years of naval service, and held a prominent position in naval circles.

A tribute to Rear Admiral Knapp is paid by a brother officer, Rear Admiral Casper F. Goodrich, who says: "In the death of Admiral Knapp the navy loses one of its most valued officers, few of whom can count so many admirers and friends as were his by virtue of his ability, close study of his profession, his excellent work in whatever capacity he was called upon to serve, his engaging personality, his sunny disposition, and his exceptional charm."

ANNUAL "CAMPUS" ELECTIONS TWO WEEKS AWAY

The annual elections to the Board of the Connecticut Campus are to be held on Thursday, May 3, according to present plans. Several vacancies caused by graduation are to be filled by new men, chiefly freshmen. Several freshmen have not yet had the necessary five columns printed in order to become eligible for election. A new position of sports editor is to be established at the coming election.

Several of the girls are near the eligibility mark and as the new constitution of the "Campus" provides that there be at least one co-ed on the board at all times if there is one eligible, it is highly probable that the girls will be given recognition in the coming elections.

The positions of Business Manager, Assistant Manager, Circulation Manager, Advertising Manager, and Subscription Manager are to be filled by those now working on or trying out for the board.

Candidates for either board have time to show their ability and become eligible if they start at once.

of a painter, and Dampsky the part of a mail man. The sketch brought forth many outbursts of laughter. After the entertainment, Professor Croteau gave the students a light lunch, after which there was dancing. Much credit is due to Professor Croteau for coaching the students, and he intends to have another entertainment before the close of the semester.

Editor's Note: Through an oversight that occurred in making up the issue of last week this article was omitted. The Board regrets such accidents and wishes to apologize to Mr. Croteau and to extend praise for the good work that his department is carrying on.

ACROSS THE ROAD

Co-ed Formal Tonight

"MONTEITH ART SOCIETY" IS FORMED BY GIRLS

Music, Art, Literature, Travel, Debating and Etiquette Will be Studied by Club.

Last Thursday night the new literary society held its first meeting in Holcomb Hall, and judging from the attendance, the interest should be wide. For some time plans have been started for a literary society among the girls, but it is just recently that it has become a reality.

The purpose of this organization is to bring the girls together in order that they may learn and study more about music, art, literature, travel, debating and etiquette. In short, it is to study the subjects which they cannot spend time enough on outside, owing to the curriculum, and which they feel are essential to every educated person.

The name of the society is to be "The Monteith Art Society" in honor of Professor Monteith, who did much for the liberal side of education on the Hill.

Mrs. Davis, who has already helped the girls, will be their advisor. She stated that she was very much in favor of the society and hoped that from this organization would spring some new college songs.

Miss Margaret Hall was elected chairman, with a permanent executive committee with Miss Phyllis Smith chairman, and Miss Marie Bronson and Miss Katherine Manchester. This committee will plan the meetings, getting outside speakers when possible. A committee is appointed to draw up a constitution.

CO-ED FORMAL IN ARMORY TONIGHT

Friday, April 20, is the date of the long awaited Co-ed Formal, which marks the climax of the girls' social calendar for the year. It is by means of this dance that the girls show their conception of an enjoyable dance, not only in regard to music, decorations, and refreshments, but even as to partners and dance programs.

FROSH DEFEAT SENIORS IN BOWLING GAME

Last Monday evening the Senior girls were defeated by the Freshmen at bowling by a total score of 414 to 393, the Freshmen being victorious in both the first and second strings. Those bowling for the Freshmen were Helen Grant, Helen Downs and Carrie Maine. The Seniors were Margaret Dunn, Emeline Dillon and Natalie Hallock. The highest personal score was 94, made by Helen Downs; the next being 91, made by Emeline Dillon.

GIRLS PLAN MAY DAY EXERCISES FOR MAY 26

Under the auspices of the Girls' Glee Club, May Day exercises are being planned for the 26th of May. A committee under Gertrude Morrey is diligently working out the program. Louise Benn is coaching her dancing class for the occasion, while Laura Kitner is attending to the costumes. Mr. R. G. Guyer's classes will have folk dancing to contribute, and Mrs. Farrell is tuning the throats of the Glee Club members to tell the story of spring. A May Queen is to be elected from the Senior Class, according to popularity among the girls, and her name will be kept a profound secret until the hour of the exercises.

P. E. CLASS FOR UPPERCLASSMEN

Acting upon the request of several sophomores, Physical Director R. J. Guyer, has announced the addition of an advanced physical education course to be known as P. E. 3. The course will take the position of the usual elective in that it will be open to all upperclassmen and give two credits for a year's enrollment. With one hour a week of theory and one hour of practical application, which will involve assisting the director with his work in lower classes, the election of such a course will prove most beneficial, especially to students who intend to teach.

McMILLAN LECTURES TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Captain Donald B. MacMillan, speaking in the Armory Saturday evening told of his experiences on his seventh trip to Unknown Baffin Land. His talk was illustrated with moving pictures and slides. After a lecture of an hour and a half, Captain MacMillan met many of the students and faculty in an informal discussion. He plans to leave again this summer for another trip in the North country.

ALL COPY FOR NUTMEG IN HANDS OF PRINTER

1923 Year Book Will Make Its Appearance During Junior Week

Work on the 1923 Nutmeg has been progressing rapidly during the past weeks and practically all copy is in the hands of the printer in New Haven. Several sections of the book have already been made up and it is expected by the board that the book will be on the Hill for Junior Week.

The only obstacle which may possibly delay this year's publication is the debt of the 1922 book and as this is being rapidly paid up, indications are that the "Nutmeg" will be out on scheduled time.

TASKER TO COACH AT WILLIAMS AND MARY

J. Wilder Tasker, former Connecticut Aggie coach, has accepted a position of head coach at Williams and Mary College in Maryland. Tasker arrived at Connecticut two years ago this spring and took up duties as head coach, coaching three sports, until last winter. Tasker will coach three sports in his new position.

"Shimmy" Greenblatt and Ben Schneirer entertained three visitors from New York over the week end. They complimented their hosts on having such wonderful co-eds.

Eight men are enrolled in the Short Course in Dairying that is being conducted by Professor Fischer during this and the coming week.
